

GRAND ARMY REVIEW BY WILSON TO BE AT PEACE MONUMENT

Parade Route May Be Shortened to Lessen Hardships of the March to Veterans.

SUGGESTED BY POST CHIEF

Commander Potter's Letter
Taken Up by Executive Committee.

The advanced age of the veterans who are to march in the grand parade that will be held in connection with the forty-ninth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in commemoration of the review of '65 may occasion a change in the arrangements made for the review by President Wilson.

At the suggestion of W. M. Potter, commander of Garfield Post, No. 7, Department of the Potomac, the executive committee of the citizens' committee which has charge of all arrangements for the encampment will consider the advisability of establishing the reviewing stand at Peace Monument, instead of at the White House, as had been determined.

In a letter to the committee today Mr. Potter calls attention to the fact that with the encampment headquarters at First and B streets northwest and the reviewing stand at the White House, the veterans would be required to march two and two-fifths miles.

Many Fear Long March.

Such an undertaking, the writer declares, would be a physical impossibility for many of the old soldiers who will come to Washington to take part in the reunion. A number of the veterans, he says, will refuse to enter the parade, and he expresses the fear that many of those who do join the line will be overcome or compelled to drop out.

He suggests that the reviewing stand be placed at Peace Monument, which he maintains would be an appropriate place, in view of the fact that the monument was erected to commemorate the establishment of peace between the States.

Offers Auto Service.

J. Henry Wagner has written the committee suggesting that a volunteer automobile parade be organized in order that the veterans may ride throughout the course of the parade. Mr. Wagner offers his automobile for such service, and expresses the belief that an ample number of machines could be obtained to accommodate all the veterans who appear to march.

Both of these suggestions will be given consideration at the next meeting of the executive committee of the citizens' committee, which will be held early next week.

Street Car Guide Books.

Henry B. Davis, chairman of the information committee of the encampment, has written to George E. Hamilton, president of the Capital Traction Company, and Clarence P. King, president of the Washington Railway and Electric Company, requesting that both companies issue small booklets for circulation among the conductors of the lines giving the location of public buildings, hotels, apartments and other places concerning which visitors to the encampment may seek information.

Civil War Nurses To Hold Convention During G.A.R. Camp

Mrs. Rebecca Lane Price, president of the National Association of the Army Nurses of the Civil War, has completed arrangements for the twenty-first annual convention of the organization, to be held here simultaneously with the G. A. R. encampment.

Headquarters of the association will be at the Gordon Hotel, Sixteenth street, between I and K streets, where the opening business session is to be held Tuesday, September 28. A campfire will be held Monday night, memorial services at 8 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and reception from 8 to 10 Wednesday night.

The nurses are advanced in age, the average being seventy-five years, and only a score of them are expected here. The women of the Loyal Legion will have charge of the entertainment of the nurses, and a training nurse will be in constant attendance during the business sessions and social affairs.

Dewey Men Plan Reunion.

"The men who fought with Dewey" are going to hold a reunion during the coming G. A. R. encampment. Arrangements for the reunion are under the supervision of Capt. Joseph P. McCook, national aid-de-camp of the United States Spanish War Veterans.

Latin-American Trade Helped by Government

A pamphlet designed to teach the United States exporters how to comply with the customs regulations and shipping requirements of the Latin-American countries is being distributed by the Department of Commerce.

An announcement is made today that the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce is seeking to remove the "trade barriers," and finds that many exporters here are embarrassed by lack of knowledge of the customs regulations of the Central and South American countries.

The bureau has accordingly published a pamphlet entitled "Consular Regulation of Foreign Countries (Canada and Latin-America)," which contains a complete description of the shipping documents required in each of the countries where difficulties have been encountered.

Changes Announced by Commerce Department

The Department of Commerce today announced the following changes in its personnel:

In the Bureau of Fisheries, John H. Catherwood, laborer, at $600 at Wytheville, Va., and James T. Tucky, statistical agent, at $1,000, have resigned.

Miss Eliza M. DeVega has been transferred from the Government Printing Office to clerk at $1,000 in the Bureau of the Census.

Alvin O. Lattie, mate in the Coast and Geodetic Survey, has been promoted $450 a month.

Motor Concern Begins Work On $225,000 Building Here

New Ford Service Station and Salesrooms Being Built At Pa. ave. and John Marshall place.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 4.—"The Ford sales and service building in Washington will be the finest and most beautiful of any building erected by the company in any city," said Henry Ford today. "It is only fitting that the capital of the country should have buildings of this kind which fit in with the prevailing form of architecture adopted by the men the Government has selected to lay out its City Beautiful."

When the Ford building for Washington was first conceived, Mr. Ford, with the broad spirit that has marked his course in the development of his business and his philanthropies, left the matter of final choice to the National Commission of Fine Arts. Out of many designs, submitted by architects from many cities, the commission chose one that fits in strikingly with the architecture of Washington.

Work is now in progress on the excavation, the old buildings formerly at the northwest corner of John Marshall place and Pennsylvania avenue having been razed.

To Be of Bedford Stone.

The building will be of Bedford stone, a costly material well in keeping with the public buildings of Washington. It will be the only building of the Ford Company in the country made of stone. Bedford stone was used in the construction of the $3,000,000 Detroit Athletic Club recently completed, and declared by architects and many world travelers to be the finest clubhouse in the world.

The dimensions of the building are to be 15x16x12, with six floors to be devoted exclusively to sales and service. There will be no assembling done in the Washington building. The structure will be without a basement, the efficiency experts of the company having figured that the cost of raising and lowering cars and material would be more than the added floor space would be worth. This is an example of the far calculation that has made the company the business wonder of the world.

Total Cost $225,000.

Contracts totaling $225,000 have been let to Irwin & Leighton, of Philadelphia, general contractors, and it is expected that the total cost of the building will be about $225,000. It is planned to open for business February 15, 1916.

Owing to the nearness of the Ford building to the Capitol the salesroom will be one of the largest in the country, to accommodate the many visitors who are expected to drop in after seeing the Capitol and the adjoining buildings. The salesroom will be almost as large as that in the Detroit sales building and assembly plant, the finest of its kind now standing, and to be exceeded in beauty of design by the Washington building only.

Bryan's Daughter Going To Join Soldier-Husband

Former Secretary of State Bryan's daughter, the wife of Capt. Reginald Owen of the British army, is preparing to go to Egypt to be near her husband.

Captain Owen recently has been promoted and is now doing inspection duty between Turkey and Egypt. Information received by a Washington friend of Mrs. Owen said that one-half of the men under Captain Owen's command have been killed and that his wife is anxious about him.

Paramont Dramatic Club Plans Winter Program

Plans to give several sketches and plays during the winter for the benefit of District charities will be formulated at the meeting of the Paramont Dramatic Club on September 13. The club will meet at its headquarters, Sixth street and Maryland avenue southwest, at 8 o'clock.

The organization includes in its ranks some of the city's best amateur talent. Rehearsals are now being held of a play to be given soon.

PENSIONS TO BE PAID VETERANS WHILE HERE

Grand Army Visitors Can Collect Cash at Capital, If Desired, Bureau Announces.

Thousands of Civil War veterans who will attend the G. A. R. encampment this month will receive their quarterly pension payments while in Washington, it was announced today at the Pension Office.

Notification has been sent to pensioners in the group which receives payment October 4 that if they intend to come to Washington and wish to receive pension payments while here, the payment will be arranged, providing they notify the Pension Office of their wishes, and give the Washington address to which they wish their voucher mailed. They will also be required to bring their pension certificate with them, as otherwise the pension voucher could not be cashed.

Only one of the four pension groups receives payment October 4. This is the group with headquarters at Buffalo, N. Y., Concord, N. H., Chicago, Des Moines, Iowa, Milwaukee, and Pittsburgh.

Explaining Teachings of Seventh Day Adventists

During the last week Evangelists Harter and Horton, at the Gospel tent, Eleventh and C streets southeast, have been explaining the work and teachings of the Seventh Day Adventists and the special message which they believe they are commissioned to preach at this time. Last Sunday night the attendance was the largest of the season, several hundred standing at the edges of the big tent.

Tomorrow night Pastor Harter will endeavor to show from Biblical prophecy that the same conditions which brought about the downfall of the ancient Roman republic will exist in this country, and will cause its downfall. The subject announced will be "The Beast and His Image."

The sermon will be preceded by a half hour musical service beginning at 7:30 o'clock. An attractive program has been prepared. L. A. Hansen will give a stereopticon lecture Monday night, "The World-wide Gospel in Print."

Other sermons for the week are: Tuesday, "The Seal of God"; Wednesday, "Christ and the Sabbath"; Thursday, "Under the Law, But Under Grace"; Friday, "Bible Sanctification."

BEGINS PASTORATE IN CAPITAL CHURCH

Rev. Howard I. Stewart, of Warren, Pa., Will Assume Duties at Second Baptist Church.

The Rev. Howard I. Stewart, formerly of Warren, Pa., will begin his pastorate at the Second Baptist Church, Fourth street and Virginia avenue southeast, at the morning service at 11 o'clock tomorrow. He will have as his topic "Work and Wages."

The Rev. Stewart was born in Kansas in 1877. The greater part of his life was spent in Pennsylvania. His father was a Baptist minister and held pastorates in both Kansas and Pennsylvania. He is a graduate of the Pittston, Pa., Academy, Bucknell University, at Lewisburg, Pa., and Crozer Theological Seminary. He was ordained in 1902. He has held pastorates at Lansdale, Pa., where he succeeded the Rev. F. W. Johnson, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, of this city; at Cambridge Springs, Pa., where the Rev. J. Compton Ball, of the Metropolitan Baptist Church, also of this city, was one time minister, and at the First Baptist Church, Warren, Pa. During the latter pastorate of less than three years, he had the privilege of receiving into his congregation between 200 and 300 new members, nearly doubling the church membership.

Mr. Stewart is a man of action both in and out of the pulpit, and a forcible speaker, possessing unusual power as an evangelist. In a recent series of eleven special meetings held in New Jersey 123 new members were added by baptism to the church, being a record-breaking baptismal service for the past twenty-five years in that State.

At the evening service tomorrow Mr. Stewart will have as his topic, "The Beat We Have," being the first of a series on Sunday evening sermons on "Practical Talks On Popular Topics." He will lead the mid-week services on Thursday evening next, when the theme for discussion will be "The Minority Report."

Church Will Celebrate Eleventh Anniversary

The congregation of the Cosmopolitan Baptist Church, N street, between Ninth and Tenth streets northwest, will celebrate its eleventh anniversary, and also observe the eleventh anniversary of its founder and pastor, the Rev. Dr. Simon P. W. Drew, commencing tomorrow and continuing until October 21. Dr. Drew has been conducting a union revival in Richmond, Va., since May. He will occupy the Cosmopolitan pulpit at the services tomorrow.

An excursion from Richmond to Washington, over the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railway, will bring a large delegation to unite in the Labor Day celebration and barbecue to be held at 2:30 o'clock on the lawn of the Cosmopolitan Baptist Church.

"The Ocean-Bed Is Being Paved With the Good Intentions of the German Government"

according to one leading American newspaper, and others take a similar view, altho the mass of editorial opinion throughout the country admits that Germany has made a concession in the "Arabic" case.

You must read THE LITERARY DIGEST for September 4th to obtain a complete presentation of public opinion in America and throughout the world on the sinking of the "Arabic," which only a week ago not only threatened to sever our peaceful relations with Germany, but something worse.

The article shows vividly and impartially every phase of the question, including the efforts put forth by the German Imperial Chancellor through Ambassador von Bernstorff to conciliate American public opinion.

In this week's issue, as usual, the whole world's activity is covered in graphic fashion. Every important development is treated from all sides. Among other articles which will appeal to American readers are:—

Can England Make Cotton Contraband and Maintain Peaceful Relations With the United States?

Strait-Jacketing Haiti
What They Think of the "Arabic" Case

Hunting from an Aeroplane
To Be-German the Public Schools
Organizing Our Play-Writing Forces
Riddling the Pacifists

These features, by no means, represent all the good things in the September 4th number of this foremost American weekly, because nothing of interest to mankind in Science, Invention, Politics, Literature, Business, Religion, or Amusements is foreign to its pages. Striking Cartoons, Photos, and Maps.

LORD NORTHCLIFFE, England's famous publisher, says: "I always tell my newspaper friends here that THE LITERARY DIGEST is the most useful weekly newspaper publication in the world."
